OU Retirements May Benefit From LB 237

A bill which could affect the retirement program of employees at Omaha University was introduced into legislative hearings Tuesday in the Nebraska Unicameral. OU president Leland Traywick, along with two other members of the university family, attended the hearing to explain the university's feelings on the proposed legis-

Dr. Traywick, along with Board of Regents Member, Robert Spire, and Dr. Willis Rokes, head of the OU insurance department, attended and spoke at the hearing on LB 237.

The bill would provide for a system of retirement benefits for employees of a municipal university (meaning OU) based on a combination of individual insurance contracts and group insurance. LB 237, Traywick explained, would revise the current statute which provides only for individual insurance.

Traywick Approves

Dr. Traywick, who voiced firm approval of the bill, said no one spoke out against the proposal at the hearing which lasted about 15 minutes.

The OU president, despite apprehension on the part of some university employees, said he is strongly in favor of implementing the double system plan. He explained that a combination of the individual and group plans would result in a better retirement plan for all university employees.

Two Changes

He noted particularly two things the combination plan could do: One, it could reduce premiums on the insurance and; two, it could bring a higher monetary value to the retirement plan. He added that it would strengthen the present benefit plan, rather than kill it, noting it would be more advantageous for both the university and its employees to use both plans.

"We might as well get the very best out of it for everyone," Dr. Traywick emphasized.

TOMAHAWK Meets Deadline

Sighs of relief were heard throughout the Student Publications office this week.

Screams of, "It's done," "Let me out of this place," and, "At last, I can go home," erupted through the usually sedate Applied Arts Building office when the staff of the 1965 TOMAHAWK yearbook met its March 1 final deadline.

Editor Sheri Hronek, however, said it wasn't as bad as all that. She noted that although the yearbook demands many hours of hard work it also serves as a learning device for prospective journalists.

OU Numbers 1,104 Students On Probation

By Loren Schnittgrund

Last week the Gateway said no count had ever been taken to determine the number of students on academic probation. B. L. Byars, head of Data Processing at OU, this week made those figures available.

It was found that 1,104 students are on academic probation. This number includes both day and night students, and also both full and part time students. Dean of Student Personnel Donald Pflasterer said "many times people only think of the day students when they're speaking of things like this."

He emphasized that the number above includes all students at OU except graduate students.

One Out of 8

Of the 1,104 students on academic probation, 632 of them are full time students and 472 are attending part time. Last fall total enrollment was 8,408. Of this number 4,113 were full time students and 4,295 were part time students. According to these figures about one out of seven full time students and approximately one out of every 10 part time students is on probation. Considering all students attending OU, about one out of eight is on probation.

No Breakdown

No breakdown was given as to how many students in each college were on probation. Dean Pflasterer said they "were not withholding information" and gave two reasons why this information should not be revealed.

Lefler Will Assume New Duty As Campus Developer

By Bob Erxleben

Omaha University president Dr. Leland Traywick has announced a change in the administrative structure of the Physical Plant Department.

Physical Plant Superintendent Clarence Lefler will assume new duties in the capacity of Director of Campus Planning and Development.

Robert Krenzer, a 15-year physical plant employee will step into the vacancy created by Lefler. Krenzer has served as Lefler's assistant for the past several years.

Feasibility

Lefler has been studying the feasibility of such a post for some time. The incentive to establish the position was sparked by the 1963 Higher Education Facilities Act. Under that act, the federal government provides one-third of the money for certain types of educational buildings and facilities.

With the lack of classroom space becoming critical, the establishment of Lefler's new post was deemed necessary.

Under the combined recommendations of administrative heads, president Traywick established the position.

President Traywick summed up the philosophy behind the move by saying, "We want our campus facilities to enhance our academic program—not stifle, cram or hinder it."

Major Problem

The major problem facing Lefler as Director of Campus Planning and Development is the utilization of the present facilities and adequate planning facilities for the expansion of the University.

In his new position, Lefler will work closely with John Latenser, Jr. the University's architect. It will be Lefler's responsibility to develop the educational specifications for all construction.

"This work is vital to the future growth and development of this University," Dr. Traywick said.

Background

Lefler is a 1942 graduate of Valparaiso High School in Valparaiso, Nebr. Following graduation, he served 34 months active duty in the Air Force as an Electrical and Instrumental Specialist.

After his stint in the Air Force, Lefler enrolled at Nebraska Wesleyan University for a year. His last three years were spent at the University of Nebraska where he received a BS in Electrical Engineering in 1949.

In 1952-53 Lefler saw 16 months of active duty as a U. S. Navy Maintenance and Utilities Officer. He was released with the rank of Lieutenant.

From his release date until his appointment at OU, Lefler worked as a Maintenance Engineer for the Elgin National Watch Company in their Lincoln plant.

In 1956 Lefler came to OU where he has served as the Director of Physical Plant.

They are: "The colleges are not in competition with each other and revealing this information may create misunderstanding between the various departments." Secondly, said Pflasterer, "probation is an individual thing and we have to respect the rights of the individual."

Students placed on academic probation are usually given one semester to show "improvement" toward the normal curve of progress set down by the university.

We Goofed!

In a front-page article in last week's Gateway concerning Dr. Charles Harkness and the University Studies Division, it was erroneously stated that "only about 89 per cent of the entering freshmen at OU graduate in the same major field that they declared when they entered..." The sentence should have read "less than one per cent of the entering freshmen..."

Ten Best Dressed Announced Friday At Home Ec Tea

The Home Economics Club selected the 10 Best Dressed Co-eds Friday at a tea in the Eppley Conference Center.

Elected to the Hall of Fame are: (not pictured) Leslie Riggs, Nancy Morris, Linda Carrell, Susie Dean, Marcia Cathcart, Judy Gilbert, and Judy Jensen. These girls have been named to the "best dressed" list two years or more in succession.

"The Best Dressed Co-eds were chosen on the basis of being well groomed, being appropriately dressed for the occasion and wearing the suitable clothes for their figures," said Margaret Killian, head of the home economics department.

Over 30 girls were nominated. From these, a home ec committee made the final selection.

Council Wants Students Ideas

Three weeks ago the Student Council announced plans to purchase four typewriters for student use. Council President Rich Tompsett asked that students submit ideas to him or any other council member concerning the placement and handling of the typewriters.

The lack of student reply may bring an end to any further plans on the subject, according to Tompsett. He added that student backing would probably give the plans a better chance of survival.

The machines would be rented for a small fee to any student, possibly on an hourly basis. The charge would cover the maintenance on the typewriters. At present, there are no facilities for typing outside of the classroom anywhere on campus.

Six OU Students Appear In Council Bluffs Mardi Gras

Omaha University is again graced with royalty of a mythical nature.

Two coeds and four male students are members of the Kingdom of Cobia which was unveiled at the Mardi Gras in Council Bluffs Tuesday night.

The countesses Diane Cade and Sharon Ross were selected according to accomplishments, leadership and scholarship by the women of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The male escorts John Dixon, Earl Rief, Douglas Johnson and John Knickman were chosen by the countesses to participate as escorts.

Diane Cade

Countess Diane is a senior majoring in journalism. She is a member of Young Democrats, the Omaha U Band, Art Club, Speakeasies and has contributed writings to the "Grain of Sand."

Her column "Cade's Cage" appears weekly in the Gateway. Miss Cade is the recipient of an Ak-Sar-Ben scholarship and will be graduated with the class of 1965.

Sharon Ross

The Omaha University Indians list the membership of another countess, Sharon "Teddy" Ross. She is a junior majoring in elementary education.

Miss Ross is treasurer of Phi

Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma social sorority.

Before coming to Omaha U., she completed one year of training at Nebraska Methodist Hospital school of nursing.

Her wide range of interests include the fine arts with an ample sampling of outside activities.

Escorts

Escorts for the "Holiday in Holland" which is the theme of the ball include four male students.

John Dixon, who seeks a career in the business and management side of broadcasting, works as a part time production assistant and film editor at WOW-TV. Dixon is a senior.

Business Administration is the major of freshman Earl Rief.

His interests include Karate, judo and swimming. Rief plans to graduate in 1968.

Douglas Johnson is an accounting sophomore on campus. He enjoys outdoor sports which he mixes with an interest in reading.

He is currently student teaching. Knickman will be graduated in June with a major in history.

Baird Receives $10,000 Fellowship For Study Of Asian Philosophies

Dr. Robert Baird, assistant professor of philosophy and religion, has applied for a one year's leave of absence from his duties at Omaha University to make use of a 10-thousand dollar post doctorate fellowship.

Dr. Baird explained he received the fellow from the Society for Religion in Higher Education to study Asian religions and Indian philosophy beginning this fall.

Dr. Baird said the fellow would allow him to study the different aspects of Hinduism and Buddhism at the University of Wisconsin's Indian Language and Area Center. He noted that his studies there would last about nine months and then he would travel to India, Japan and Asia in general the remaining three months to get a first hand look at the actual practices of the religions.

Dr. Baird is also in line for a 16-hundred dollar fellowship from the Ford Foundation. If his application is accepted the funds would allow him to start his work this summer at Wisconsin's Inter-University - Rotating South Asian Summer School.

Dr. Baird, who has been at OU for the last 3 years, received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1954. In 1957 he received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree and two years later earned his Masters of Sacred Theology Degree from Southern Methodist University. He was awarded his doctorate degree in religion in 1964 from the University of Iowa.

Campus News in Brief - -

Dudley Sauve, OU speech instructor, announced this week tryouts for Readers Theater will be coming up soon. He said the exact date has not yet been determined. The production this year is "A Long Days Journey Into Night." The final production will be April 6 and 8.

From The Bushes

By Mike Moran

Growing Pains . . . .

The Faculty Athletic Committee of the University of Omaha has officially approved moving the Idaho State and Bradley football games to Rosenblatt Stadium next season.

At a meeting earlier this week, plans were made for renting the Stadium. All this is subject, of course, to approval by President Traywick and the Board of Regents.

Things are beginning to pop around the premises these days and this is only the beginning in what many hope will be a new and better athletic program at Omaha U.

Budget Speaks . . . .

In another staggering move, the Athletic Department has asked the Faculty Athletic Committee to propose a Grant-In-Aid budget for 1965-66 that will be double the present setup.

Right now, OU athletics receive 12 thousand dollars per year from the Student Activities Fund. That is based upon 3 dollars per student, with 4,000 full time students.

The new request will ask not for an increased activity fee, but simply a bigger cut. That cut would be six dollars per student, or 24 thousand dollars.

This increase, added to other incomes from Alumni, Gate Receipts and other events, would increase the total budget for athletics to just over 40 thousand dollars. Right now, the Department receives just over 29 thousand dollars.

The added income is based upon no more than 40 cents per game for football, 20 cents per student for basketball, and 10 cents a game for other sports.

Reasons Given . . . .

Athletic Director Virgil Yelkin cites the following reasons why the increase is needed if OU is to maintain a decent and representative athletic program:

1. Increasing competition from area Universities and Colleges for the recruiting of student-athletes from Omaha.

(The better student-athlete is being offered the NCAA "full ride" by all Big Eight, Big Ten, Missouri Valley, North and South Dakota, Nebraska Universities, and most Junior Colleges.)

2. Increasing costs of school expenses and living costs to students, especially those to non-resident students.

3. Upgrading schedules and competition.

4. Necessity of recruiting student-athletes outside of city limits and in Junior Colleges.

5. Lack of part-time jobs available to athletes.

Right now, non-resident OU athletes pay costs over and above the resident tuition that they are given by the Athletic Department. The new proposal calls for 8,100 dollars per year to pay "full rides" for out-of-state prospects.

Total athletic scholarships would be increased from 60 to 90.

Here It Is . . . .

In plain and simple terms, OU coaches are pleading for more money to recruit better athletes. I feel that the staff has done a super-human job with the little that they have had in the past.

There are those that will argue that buildings must be built, the band needs a new drum, the library needs a new bookshelf or two and many other equally justifiable gripes.

But OU is not an Alumni-controlled, football crazy institution like some small schools and most of the major area Universities.

OU's staff is asking for a good sized sum of money, but not an outlandish or extravagant one. These men have a job to do and they want to have the same breaks as fellow coaches in getting the material.

They should get to keep the money they harvest at the gate, and sow it back into giving more student-athletes an education and a chance they might not have had otherwise.

There are those that will oppose this prospect, and with good reason, but let us hope that these individuals are not so blind that they cannot recognize the value of the athletic program to a University.

The budget requests are due on President Traywick's desk sometime in mid-April. It should be an interesting and far-reaching hassle.

There's a lot at stake here. . . .

Distance Stars Primed As CIC's Indoor Meet Kicks Off Tonite At OU

By MIKE MORAN

While lacking the outstanding individuals of the past two years, tonight's opening of the CIC Indoor Track Meet at OU will nonetheless have some bright spots.

Distance stars John Camien of Emporia, Don Lakin of Fort Hays, Stu Powell of Pittsburg and Omaha's Ken Gould appear ready to stage a real thriller in the long runs.

Chore ahead

Gould's competition will depend upon just what his opponents enter. However, he is expected to enter the mile, 1000, 880 and two mile.

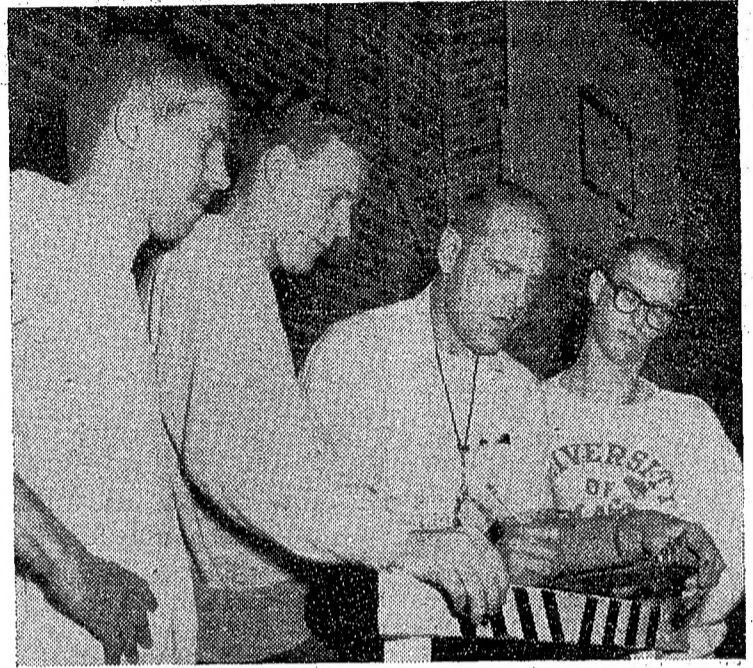

The Lyons, Nebraska, star has scored 35 points so far in meets this year for the Indians.

Hurdler Gary Powers, surprise of the young season, and veteran Ed Neel are other Omahaans counted on for points by Coach Lloyd Cardwell.

OU newcomer John Norton, who broad-jumped 21 1/4 last week to win against Doane and Graceland, is being groomed for further duty this weekend.

Emporia Tops?

Cardwell figures on Emporia for a repeat title but doesn't discount team strengths of Fort Hays and Pittsburg as vital factors in just who will take home the bacon.

Gould, Powers, Cardwell, Neel . . . vets discuss point plan.

The veteran mentor sees OU and Washburn battling for the fourth spot in a balanced chase all the way around.

Preliminaries in all events begin at 6:30 tonight. Finals will be tomorrow afternoon. Activity cards will admit all Omaha U Students.

Doane Cops

Rick Wood's anchor leg in the mile relay, the night's last event, gave Doane a narrow margin at the tape over OU and in the final scoring last Friday night in a triangular at OU.

Doane scored 69 1/2 points to 66 1/2 for Omaha and 15 for Graceland College.

Wood was the meet's individual star with wins in the 60 yard dash and the 440.

Villnow's 27 Points Not Enough As Omaha Falls To Emporia In Season's Finale, 80-73

Big Larry Villnow scored a career high of 27 points in his final collegiate game, but it wasn't enough as OU fell, 80-73, to Emporia State last Thursday night at Emporia.

The loss finished OU's season at 10-13 and broke a two game Omaha win streak. It also evened their CIC mark at 4-4, good for a third place tie.

Tribute Coming

Villnow set a career OU rebound mark of 774 rebounds and finished with 899 career points in earning four letters. He did not miss a game in those four years and started almost every game.

He is the only senior on this year's young squad. Many feel he will return as a student assistant next year.

OU coach Jim Borsheim summed up Larry's career as follows. . . "Other players have come and gone, but Larry Villnow was with us for every game for four straight years.

"I've had greater ball players in my time, but none ever put out day after day like he did."

Larry Villnow became a basketball player in his last season. He will have many memories to take with him.

Fuxa Bows Out

Wayne Poses Top Threat To OU Wrestlers As NAIA Hopefuls Vie

by Ken McEwen

Next stop for Omaha University wrestlers will be at Wayne, Nebraska, for the District 11 N. A. I. A. tournament. The team was to leave this morning for the meet that is to include ten teams from Nebraska. The field will be composed of all the Nebraska College Conference teams and Independents from the state.

Wrestling coach Don Benning is still looking to host Wayne State as the team to beat in the tournament. He confessed that Wayne was the school that he knew the most about, simply because of their recent victory over Omaha. He said that he has been trying to obtain the results of the Nebraska College Conference tournament last weekend but has been unable to do so thus far.

Benning announced no changes in the line up for the District test. However, he did say that Tom Maides would switch from the heavyweight spot to 191 pounds for the meet. OU will not enter a heavyweight.

Good chance

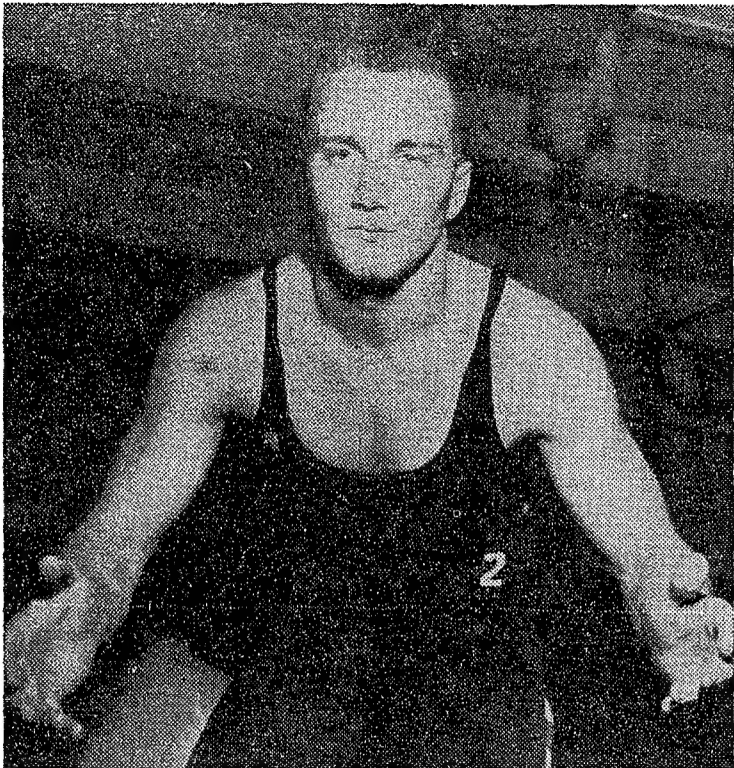

The coach stuck to his guns in emphasizing once again that "all of the men have a good chance of winning first or second place in their brackets". He then qualified the statement with the simple fact that, "they will have to wrestle real good to do this."

Benning went on to explain the N. A. I. A. wrestling district system. He said that the whole concept of the Nebraska tournament and similar ones is not like that of a basketball tournament. "There is no actual elimination as there would be in a basketball tournament, instead the district meets help in seeding men in the national." He said that it helps to qualify the men as to their worth according to their area and coaches across the nation can then judge them accordingly.

and MONEY too

Another distinct advantage to the District tournament is the fact that the tournament is helpful with financing the top two wrestler in each weight for the trip to the National Tournament in Terre Haute. Benning said that although any man is eligible to enter the National regardless of his finish in the District, he doubts any OU wrestler will attend unless they finish one-two.

He did say that "extenuat-

ing circumstances" might make him reconsider who will go. He explained this in terms of an example of a wrestler that might be hurt in the District that is capable of National competition.

To Terre Haute?

Those wrestlers who qualify this week end in the District will have to pass another smaller obstacle first. The faculty Athletic Committee at OU met yesterday to determine what wrestlers would leave Wednesday for Terre Haute. Benning said that he has recommended all of the boys to the committee and their vote will decide on from five to seven of them. The National tournament will be held March 10-11.

Fuxa's last bid

The coming tournaments will mean quite alot to senior Jim Fuxa. Holding on to a record of 11-2-2 this year, Jim will retire his college togs this month. His first obstacle in the District will likely be Wayne State's Ron Tope. Tope is the defending District 11 champ and was a fifth place finisher in the Nationals last year. Jim was beaten by Tope in their last meeting. Fuxa journeyed to the National Tournament two years ago.

N. W. Missouri, victors

Northwest Missouri State of Marysville continued on its winning ways Saturday night as they downed OU 22-5 at Marysville. It was the thirty first straight win for the Missourians, and 12-0 for this year. Benning could give no reasons for the loss except that Marysville was a well balanced team and they simply outwrestled OU. He said that OU lost a couple of close matches that could have made the points closer.

Although Benning didn't have much to say about the remarkable number of 1,200 spectators at the match, this more than likely had some bearing on the outcome. It an OU student could comprehend this kind of support he might see why an OU athlete might not get as excited as an opponent. The coach said "It sure didn't hurt Marysville any." The points that night came with a tie by Jim Fuxa and a win by Gerald Shook. Benning said of Shook "that he is beginning to come out of a staleness that he was in, and is beginning to improve once again."

The results:

123—Harvey Hallum, Marysville, defeated Tom Bell, 5-0.
130—Gerald Shook, Omaha, defeated Al Jensen, 2-1.
137—Jim Fuxa, Omaha, and Arnold Thompson drew, 3-3.
147—Ron James, Marysville, pinned Ken Netwig in 4:14.
157—Ronnie Wieland, Marysville, defeated Reggie Williams, 3-0.
167—Al Parker, Marysville, defeated Rick Davis, 4-0.
177—Al Borkowski, Marysville, defeated Rich Tomasek, 5-3.
Heavy—Bob Reese, Marysville, defeated Tom Maides, 2-0.

Fourteen Lettermen Report; Yelkin Optimistic—As Usual

by Angus Campbell

Baseball practice got underway this week, despite the un-sportsmanlike weather. Fourteen letterman turned out for the squad and a promising crop of newcomers is keeping Coach Virgil Yelkin smiling.

Yelkin lists pitching, infield depth and team speed as strong points and long-ball hitting, first base and catching as apparent weaknesses. Daring baserunning and good team speed, a Yelkin trademark, should be a feature of the 1965 Indians.

There are two letterman at catcher but a promising rookie is expected to give them a run for the starting spot. Joe Berenis and Frank Elias are the returnees and Freshman Herb Johnson of Creighton Prep is the newcomer. Yelkin reports Johnson is a long ball hitter and says he has hope for the 18-year-old.

With the exception of the troublesome first base position, the infield is stacked with lettermen. Eddie Bryant at third base, Rich Lang at second and Don Crum at shortstop seem to have the inside track.

Junior Rich Vacek and senior Gary Gilmore are the returning letterman in the outfield. The other position may be filled by switching some infielders to the outfield.

The pitching staff looks strong and deep. Four lettermen and several freshmen who had good high school careers make the mound perhaps the teams strongest point.

Coach Yelkin says he hopes to "shakedown" the squad during the early season southern swing. The road trip will wind up with a tournament at Phillips University in Enid, Oklahoma.

Final Basketball Statistics

University of Omaha basketball players wrapped up the 1964-65 season with a 10-13 mark and a second place tie in CIC play.

Coach Jim Borsheim's Indians, who lost five players at the semester through ineligibilities and dropping from the squad, won eight of eleven games at home and two of ten on the road. Only home losses were to Chico State, NE Missouri and St. Benedict's. Only road wins were over Doane and Illinois State.

Highlights of the season were wins over Nebr. Wesleyan, Doane, and Pittsburgh, CIC champion. The Indians won four home games in the CIC and lost four on the road.

Prospects for next year look good if all players lost at the semester and six other lettermen return. Biggest loss will be the graduation of 6-7 center Larry Villnow. The four-year starter finished his OU career with 899 points and 774 rebounds.

By Roger L. Prai

Climaxing three weeks of hard fought tournament play, the Intramural basketball tourney came to a close this week at the fieldhouse.

Meeting in the head-to-head finale were the Flyers and the Yellow Jackets with the Flyers taking a 58-52 decision.

Newcomer Helps

Missouri transfer, 6-6 Dennis Brown, proved to be the big gun for the Flyers as he poured in 23 points in showing the way to victory. He was high man in point production for both teams.

In return, the Yellow Jackets offered balanced scoring and it nearly proved enough. The Flyers came away at the half-time sporting an eight point lead, 29-21, then hung on to preserve the victory.

Surprise Showing

The Yellow Jackets' showing in the tournament came as something of a surprise since during regular league play they finished third in league No 2 behind both the Flyers and Bootstrappers with a 5-2 mark.

Soundly trouncing the Hawk-eyes 104-21, the Jackets set the tourney high for one game point production.

Undefeated for the season, the Flyers were the only team in any of the leagues to accomplish the trick, bringing a 7-0 mark in the tourney.

Two teams from league No 1, the Fugitives and Zekes, managed to get into the semi-finals. Both teams had finished in a tie for the regular season lead with the Sig Eps carrying identical 6-1 records.

Apparently, league No 2 was far stronger this year than most persons realized.

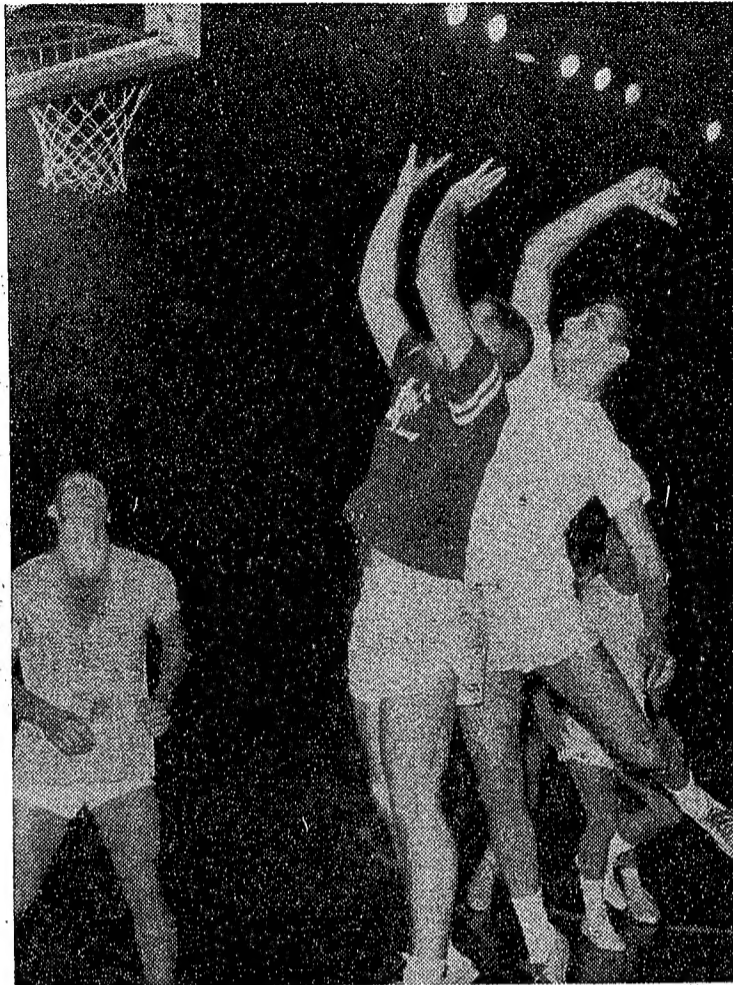

The only team from league No 3 to get far in the tournament were league leading Cherubs, who stumbled in the quarter-finals.

Raiders Withdraw

Coming as something of a shock to most, dark-horse entry Marvin Raiders were forced to withdraw from tourney action because of "outside business pressure." Most members of the Raiders have a dual-job-student situation and had schedule conflicts with the remaining tourney games. The Marvin Raiders had loomed as a force to be reckoned with by edging the powerful Bootstrap team and then whacking Lambda Chi in their second outing. Their forfeit automatically carried the Zekes into the semi-finals.

Semi-finals

In semi-finals action, the Yellow Jackets skipped past the Fugitives 50-38 with Dennis Foster leading win with 14 markers.

Sig Eps' Ken McEwen ... Up and In.

The Fugitives took the floor with only five men who had to go all the way. Tim Hanrahan chalked up 16 points for the losers.

In the other semi-final, the Flyers beat the Zekes 65-54. Big man for the victors was again, Dennis Brown with 23 points. Jerry Kamphius was once again the standout player for the losers by canning 20 points in the loss. Costing the Zekes dearly was their poor foul-shooting of 12-26.

High Scorers

Combined scoring honors for the season and tourney went to Tim Hanrahan of the Fugitives with 157 points, followed by teammate Tom Emery with 156. Regular season scoring leader, Lambda Chi's John Berkheimer, wound up in sixth place with 136 points.

INTRAMURAL TRACK MEET

Miss Killian - A Living Travelog

Our faculty member in the spot light this week is Miss Margaret P. Killian, the well-traveled head of OU's department of home economics.

Talking with Miss Killian is like sitting back in your favorite and most comfortable chair while a folder in your hand talks to you. But, she's more interesting than any travel folder or travelog could be because she's enthusiastic about her experience and tells of her travels with a special joy.

Her First Trip

"I started traveling when I was 12 years old and I've been traveling ever since," she said. Miss Killian, who was born and raised here in Omaha, finished grade school by her twelfth year by taking accelerated classes. Her Vienna born parents, who were also fond of travel, took her on her first trip. They went to Yellowstone Park. "I'll never forget that trip," she mused.

After graduating from high school, the next trip sent young Miss Killian to the College of St. Catherine in St. Paul, Minnesota where she attained her bachelor's degree in her double major of Home Economics and Psychology. She later received her masters at Columbia University in New York. "I loved Columbia," she said. "We met so many great people there—like Edna St. Vincent Millay and Ethel Barrymore."

After graduating from St. Catherine's, Miss Killian became a tutor to two children of a rich and prominent family. A dream-like experience followed. This included taking their 16-year-old daughter on a first class tour of Europe which took a good four-and-a-half months. "I had traveled abroad by the time I was 21," she noted.

To Europe Eight Times

To date, Miss Killian has traveled in Europe eight times. "When I set my mind on taking a trip somewhere, I go," she said. Miss Killian's joy in traveling is the opportunity to observe natural beauty, whether it be in Wyoming or Honolulu. She also added, "The cultural advantages of traveling can't be excelled."

Brief Glimpses

Taking a brief glimpse of some of her more memorable visits across the sea, Miss Killian recalled the Royal Palace in Madrid, Spain. She called it "unbelievably beautiful" and filled with the most breathtaking chandeliers she has ever seen.

She spoke nostalgically of the ruins in Egypt and she told of the incongruity of the new and modern branch the University of Chicago built only a short distance from the ancient Pyramids in Cairo.

Around the World

Last summer Miss Killian took a trip around the world. It took her about two-and-a-half months to complete. Leaving from San Francisco, she flew to Honolulu then on to Hong-Kong, Thailand, India, Cairo, Luxor and then from Athens to London and to others of her old stamping grounds in western Europe. "This was my first time in the Orient," she noted.

One thing stands out in her travels abroad. "I always see great numbers of alums from OU everywhere I travel." That's a good sign, I thought. Perhaps someday I'll fly to Europe instead of taking my usual Walter Mitty type tour of the European continent.

Tickets, Tickets . . .

Here's a reminder to all OU theatre goers. Tickets for Goldsmith's play "She Stoops to Conquer" will go on sale March 8 to 12 in the Student Center. All CAE students are reminded that they may also attend this play on their activity cards. Tickets may be picked up from 9:00 to 2:00 during the day or from 3:30 to 10:00 at night. The play will be presented the evenings of March 11, 12, and 13 at 8:30 in the OU auditorium.

American Heritage . . .

The first of three American Heritage series will be held April 7. The over all theme of this years series will be "The Military in our American Heritage". The series will be on campus and open to the public. There is no admission charge.

April 7, Dr. J. D. Hill, President of Wisconsin State College, author of "Sea Dog of the Sixties" and "The Texas Navy" will speak on the Military in the American Tradition. April 21, Dr. Francis P. Prucha, S.J., associate Professor at Marquette University will lecture on the Cutting Edge of Western Expansion.

On May 5, Dr. William Kinter of the Foreign Policy Research Institute will speak on the Military Role in Determining National Policy.

'A Few Aspects Of Junior College Being Neglected'

The University of Omaha, like many colleges in the nation, offers students a special two-year associate degree in various fields.

However, Dr. Charles Harkness, head of OU's University Studies Division, feels that a few aspects of this junior college-type plan are being neglected — not necessarily by the University, but by high school administrators and by applicants for the program.

There are two categories for junior colleges, Dr. Harkness said. First there is the "transfer" type of junior college designed to give education to the student at the lowest financial outlay. The other type is the "terminal" college, which offers an associate title.

Terminal Plan

Dr. Harkness feels that the "terminal" plan is the most promising.

He pointed out the former plan only prepares the individual for two more years of college.

Dr. Harkness added the two year graduate will only be equipped to be an assistant or associate.

However, the prospects of lower pay and position are not responsible for hindering the possibilities of the junior college plan. Dr. Harkness lays the blame, first, on the high school counselor who applies his efforts only to the more promising and ambitious student. The counselor often goads students into seeking something they don't want or couldn't possibly achieve.

Diversified Study

Secondly, Dr. Harkness blames the student himself—especially the one who is limited in some way but could succeed as a two-year graduate. These unchecked ambitions can lead the student to a diversified study, and, as often as not, to failure. The combination of these two forces keeps the two-year program in obscurity.

There are five junior colleges in Nebraska. Scottsbluff, McCook, Norfolk, and Fairbury are publically supported. A fifth, at York, is privately supported.

Student Council Opens Meeting

The first Student Council meeting of the month will be open to all students according to Rich Tompsett, Student Council president.

The Student Council meets twice monthly on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month in the Student Organizations Room. The first meeting will include a special section where any student may express his ideas. The second meeting will be a regular business meeting.

Through opening the meetings, the Student Council feels the students will have a larger part in the student government.

Letters are now in the mail to the presidents of all campus organizations asking them to elect representatives to attend the meetings. This will allow organizations without Council representatives to understand more of what is being done through the Council. It also enables the Council to get a better scope of student ideas.

The first open meeting will be March 9 at 4:30 p.m. in the Milo Bail Student Center Organizations Room.

New Light Is Shed On Campus Night Life

This week Gateway reporter Chynne Koser and photographer Jim Mone prowled the campus at night to come up with an interesting slant on the "busiest night spot in Omaha".

By Chynne Koser

Campus night life is as full of variety as day life—with considerably less people. The Student Center and the library are almost deserted, but filled classrooms show the campus is not completely lifeless. For many students, the night is the only time they see the campus. They come from many places—a teacher from Council Bluffs, a student nurse, a day student.

Just as night cannot come without day, the night is needed at the University of Omaha to prepare for the next day. Calendars must be changed, pool tables vacuumed, and vending machines refilled.

But students make the life of the campus at night. They fill classes, bowl, eat, and play pool. No matter how many other things that have to be done, there is always time to relax. But even the pool tables don't have their usual business.

Classes hold the majority of the students. They listen to lectures, perform experiments, sculpture, and smoke during breaks.

The emptiness of the library gives the few who study a chance to relax. Shoes come off, legs stretch out, and corners are forgotten.

Angels Looking For Girls With Social, Service Minds

By Judy McCoy

Angel Flight, quite naturally, as an auxiliary to the Arnold Air Society, selects its members on the basis of interest, poise, personality, grooming and achievement.

During the past week applications for membership were available to girls having at least a 2.3 accumulative scholastic average.

The applicants will appear before a board of executive members of Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight for an interview. New Angels will be announced at the annual Military Ball, April 2.

What are the Angel's? The 47 members can tell you that Angel Flight is a social and service organization. It was founded at Omaha University in 1952 and has since spread to many universities throughout the nation.

The twice monthly meetings reveal an air of military dignity and feminine congeniality.

Last semester the "angels" sponsored the "Toys For Tots Dance" which raised more than 500 toys for needy children in the Omaha area. In November the flight helped make Thanksgiving for a family of eleven a more pleasant one.

Angel Flight Leader of the past year has been Joyce Borland.

This weekend Joyce and Operations Officer, Billie Poulson will attend the Angel Flight Conclave in Lincoln. The area meeting will meet to exchange ideas of the school flight.

If you would like to see all 47 members of Angel Flight perform in drill marching and hear the Angel Airs sing, keep your eyes on notice of the forthcoming "Operation Snowflake". There will be lots of snow in April.

Pauline Williams Is Junior Prom Queen

The title of 1965 Junior Prom Queen was presented to Pauline Williams during last Friday night's Junior Prom activities.

The 21-year-old philosophy student was chosen by an all school vote held February 23. The announcement was made at the annual Junior Prom Dance held at the Town House Ballroom February 26.

Pauline is rush chairman of Alpha Xi Delta sorority, junior advisor to Alpha Lambda Delta, secretary of French Club and historian of Angel's Flight. She holds the rank of Major in Angel's Flight.

Another winner during the evening was Hilde Walter. Hilde held the winning chance for the grey Motorola stereo which was given away by the Student Council.

25 Sign Up In NAACP Drive

The Youth Council of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will enter the final week of its membership drive on the University of Omaha campus Monday.

Fifteen new members have been recruited during the past week which brings the total to 25 new members with support pledged by many non-affiliated OU students.

AEPi Initiates Seven

Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity initiated seven new actives February 28.

Among the new members are Melvin Epstein, Sidney Heisler, Gordon Lazerson, Joel Lechuck, Barry Lewis and Gary Lewis.

Sophomore Dance Open To All Tonight

Those attending tonight's Sophomore Dance will find themselves among three-foot pineapples and giant palm trees. Theme for the 9-12 a.m. event at the Carter Lake Club is a tropical one.

Favors will be given "as long as they hold out," according to Class President Randy Nielsen. The Jags, a combo which has appeared in Tollages in Boulder, Colo., will play. Dress is casual.

The dance is open to all University of Omaha students. Activity cards will admit to the "couples only" event. The dance is sponsored by the Sophomore Class officers and the Student Council.

Alpha Xi's Plan

Initiation Parties

Alpha Xi Delta will hold an informal initiation this Saturday, March 6, followed by a formal initiation Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Woodmen of the World building. There will be a banquet following the initiation at the Omaha Womens Club.

Olds Jetstar 88 really cuts it, come examine. Test it out on action first.

This baby can put down 315 horses, eager to go anywhere. Now score it on ride: whip-cream smooth, thanks to four coil springs and other goodies. Now room: stretch yourself in interiors that say Olds is out to win the space race. Now price: Jetstar 88 prices start below 30 models with "low-price" names. Actually, these tests are hardly fair to the other thirty... Olds is in a class by itself!
